Sounds good. Consider that step 1 and this being step 2 on your journey in 404.

Christine,

That sounds fine. I'll generate a list of questions/comments as I review the materials, and then it would probably be helpful for you and I to have a call and walk through them.

Also FYI - I had a call with Aaron yesterday to talk about the Nonresponsive based on revised scope public notice. We talked through some of the aspects of this particular public notice and project. Aaron is going to do his normal review on that and cc me so that I get a better idea of the kinds of comments that we generate on these public notices.

Thanks,
Mark
